

REGIONAL CONSERVATION

Participant Guide

The gopher frog's eggs are raised in a _____ at the Zoo until they develop into tadpoles.	The name of the pines that house the gopher frogs:	The North Carolina Zoo has over _____ acres of undeveloped land.	When trees are burned on purpose to help other grasses and wild flowers grow, this is called a:	What makes an amphibian an amphibian?
Define conservation:	What is a snout otter?	What was the answer of the nickname that DOESN'T belong to hellbenders?	What is the name of the contraption used to help the hellbender?	What is NC's state reptile?
Ask a question to the hosts. Record it and the answer here:	The definition of "ephemeral":	FREE	What is a "dipnet?"	What is the purpose of a camera trap?
What is NC's state frog?	What is a mesocosm?	Why does the Zoo choose to help conserve the gopher frog?	What is the next Living With Nature topic?	Respond to a poll. Were you right? Record your answer here:
How long can a hellbender get?	Who is Braveheart?	Where are the most species of salamanders found?	What is Frogwatch?	Where is our expert Nell talking to us from?